

GOING BEYOND TRADITION

SHINTA
INDAH JAYA

Delivering a range of high performance, quality knitted fabrics that draw on our decades of experience

OUR COMPANY

Established in 1971 as a trading company before becoming the original manufacturing unit under the Shinta Group, Shinta Indah Jaya has since developed into a prominent producer of textiles in Indonesia.

ABOUT US

We manufacture circular, warp, and flat knitted polyester and nylon fabrics for some of the world's leading brands such as Adidas, H&M, and Victoria's Secret. Our operations are OEKO-TEX 100 certified and we utilize state-of-the-art technology to tailor to our customers' requirements. We also remain adaptable to the rapidly changing trends in the textile and garment industries through continuous reinvestments in modern technology and R&D.

Having direct access to a wide selection of polyester and nylon yarns produced by our sister company, Sulindafin, we are well-positioned to develop innovative and functional fabrics using a variety of specialty and performance yarns. This includes the renowned SulCool yarn, a permanent moisture-management technology that was developed in-house. Our range of SulCool fabrics utilizes a tetra-capillary action to effectively wick moisture away from the skin, keeping it cool and dry for longer-lasting freshness and improved athletic performance.

Furthermore, we provide custom coatings that enhance the properties of the fabrics. From anti-UV and anti-bacterial characteristics, to anti-static, water and oil repellent; our wide range of special coatings offer added functionality while enhancing the comfort, protection and performance of your products.

Through our highly-streamlined supply chain and focus on quality, we stand ready to support your every business need. As differentiation and greater value-add become increasingly important to a brand's durability in the global market, Shinta Indah Jaya goes beyond tradition to ensure our customers make their mark.
